Biography

My passion is in working with the elderly. I received a Master's Degree in theology(M. DIV., Trinity Evangelical Divinity School) and gerontology(MA, Luther Seminary) from a graduate school in the USA. I am also a Ph.D. candidate in social work policy Keimyung University in Korea. After returning to Korea in 2001, I established a social welfare foundation and it has grown into a corporation specializing in services for senior citizens. Currently, I am operating several nursing homes and In-home care centers. I also serve as the president of the Daegu Federation of Senior Welfare (DFSW) as well as the president of the Daegu Association of Social Workers (DASW).

My hope through this position as a representative of IFSW-AP to UN is to promote the elderly welfare of the Asia-Pacific member countries will be well prepared for emerging new social risks by the rapidly growing geriatric population, and also, I hope that the members will look back and cooperate with each other.

Kind Regards
