

IFSW Ethics Commission

Bio of Dr. Seyed Hassan Mousavi Chelak

He was born on 23rd of July 1968 in the village of Bandpey of Noshahr city in Mazandaran province of Iran. His wife is also a social worker and he has one daughter. He got PhD of social work from Allameh Tabatabaei University (the major university in Iran for human science studies). He achieved an award for being "National Top Student" (2014) and "National Top Researcher" (2003) in front of the president of Iran.

He has written and published 38 books in the field of social work and has been a lecturer in university for 24 years. He is the founder of "Social Emergency Service" in Iran and the executive manager of making the "National Plan for Controlling and Reducing Social Harms". He was scientific secretary of 80+ national and international conferences and symposiums.

Forming social profile for every person in Iran, copy right for social ideas, festival of top social ideas, forming community stations (with social work approach), producing the national anthem for social work, designer of the national medal of social health and forming database from social organizations are some of his implemented ideas.

He is a member in 34 national committees of policy making in Iran and now the regional ethics commissioner and member of executive committee of IFSW-AP.

Dr. Hassan Mousavi Chelaks main interests and fields of speciality are social policy making and social harms.