

Multicultural Perspective in Working with Families, Fourth Edition

A Handbook for the Helping Professions

Elaine P. Congress DSW, LCSW
Manny J. Gonzalez PhD

New to the 4th Edition:

- Provides a new intersectional approach to assessment and treatment
- Adds the perspectives of psychologists in four completely new chapters
- Includes a new chapter on DSM5 from a multicultural perspective, plus new chapters on health and access to health services
- Provides new and updated case vignettes
- Reflects changes in the family unit over the last quarter century and how it impacts treatment
- Addresses distinct sociopolitical issues affecting immigrants and undocumented families

Features a new intersectional approach to assessment and treatment and interweaves the perspectives of psychologists!

Focusing on critical emerging issues in regard to multicultural families, the fourth edition of this popular book reflects fundamental issues surrounding assessment and treatment of families from diverse cultural backgrounds.

The text underlines the importance of an intersectional approach to working with families that, in addition to culture and ethnicity, also considers socioeconomic class, gender, age, religion, immigration status, and sexual orientation as important factors. The most effective treatment methods for working with culturally diverse families across the life cycle are covered in detail.
