Community/Volunteer and Leadership Experience over the past decade

UNICEF as well as NGOs. During my tenure as Vice President, our regional conferences have been held collaboratively with other national and regional stakeholders. As regional leaders we have been able to progressively and proactively build internal and external partnerships with people who use social work services and their wider communities.

- 4) As Regional Vice President for Africa, I have played a leading role in advancing advocacy initiatives against human rights violations. Examples in point are some of the statements published on IFSW global website highlighting human rights violations in the Cameroon, Zimbabwe and Uganda to mention but a few.
- 5) As Regional Vice President, I have made significant contributions in ensuring that a number of national associations in the region join the federation whilst at the same time supporting new members to set up clear governance and financial systems to effectively operate as an organization.
- 6) As Regional Vice President, I have attended all global executive committee meetings and adequately represented the Africa Region. I have also contributed to highlight the African social work practice aspect inspired by “Ubuntu” philosophy thereby contributing to shaping the global narrative of social work training and practice that is interested in incorporating indigenous knowledge.
- 7) I have also been involved in the Africa region study landscaping the social welfare workforce and the extent to which social is being recognized as a profession in Africa. This exercise was done in partnership with UNICEF Eastern and Southern Africa (ESARO) and the Global Social Service Workforce Alliance (GSSWA).
- 8) Each of the above actions has significantly assisted the development and strengthening of social work profession in the region.
- 9) As Regional Vice President for Africa, I have spoken at a number of fora including the 2019 World Social Work Day commemoration at the UN in Geneva, virtually spoke about “Ubuntu” during the 2021 World Social Work Day at the UN as well as made Podcast presentations for 2021 World Social Work Day commemoration for the British Association of Social Workers.
- 10) I have also been a Guest lecturer to social work students at Lucerne University of Applied Sciences and Arts in Switzerland as well as virtual Guest lecturer for social work students at the University of Barcelona in Spain. All these opportunities helped create a platform for sharing our African social practice experiences and how that our practice environments mode and shape our practice methods. Key lessons shared with social work students was that our practice wisdom was largely influenced by our practice environment thereby contributing significantly to our training and practice outcomes.

 - o Aug 2002-Mar 2003 Part-time lecturer, National College for Management and Development Studies

- Practical wisdom and objective interest in international affairs

My role as board member of the Social Workers’ Association of Zambia (SWAZ), board member of COSW, Board member of IFSW as well as Regional Vice President of IFSW Africa has exposed to corporate governance and policy making processes and challenges. Through this exposure, I have learnt how to work with a cross cultural team, managing cultural sensitivities as well as build professional interpersonal relationships. Speaking at international foras such as during the 2019 and 2021 World Social Work Day at the UN has enhanced my confidence as well as helped me foster international networks. My immense number of years in social work practice has also been a learning curve, learning from service users as well as from the bottlenecks and opportunities I encountered along the journey of my professional practice. I have over the years gained some immense practice wisdom that I am willing to share with young practitioners. Having been instrumental and key in reviving and capacity building the national association in Zambia, to the level it has grown today, I have overtime gained some wealth of experience as well as interest in organisational capacity development. I am a keen follower of international politics and personally monitor the human rights outlook of African states with a goal of advocating against human rights abuses.

- Willingness and capacity to devote time to assume work responsibilities in the Executive or Regional Committee

The period I have served the Federation in my capacity as Africa Region Representative on the IFSW Global Ethics Commission as well as Africa Region Vice President, I have always set aside time for all these roles including my current role at my national association where I have been volunteering for since 2005. It will therefore be an honour and privilege as the first African nominee to assume the role of Global President of the Federation. I am committed to making a humble contribution to advancing the ethos of the federation as well as strengthening this global movement. I am willing and have the capacity to devote my time to assume work responsibilities in the Executive or Regional Committee

- Ability, in so far as possible, to attend Executive or Regional Committee meetings

My current job and engagements provides me time to travel and attend to Executive Committee meetings.

- Participation, so far as possible, as delegate of the General Meeting or attendance at IFSW Conferences

I am committed to attending General Meetings and IFSW conferences/summits. I have previously attended IFSW regional conferences starting with Zambia in 2017, Uganda in 2019 and Rwanda in 2021. I have also attended global General meetings and conferences in 2018 and 2020. As IFSW Africa Region Vice President, I have consistently attended executive committee meetings both virtually and physically as well as represented the region during 2019 and 2021 World Social Work Day at the UN.

- Any other information relevant to your nomination

Under the stewardship of the nominee as Secretary General and Chief Executive Officer, The Social Workers Association of Zambia (SWAZ) was re-established and has built governance and financial systems and procedures which makes it operate as an organisation. SWAZ currently employs 15 staff on contract under a USAID systems strengthening project. The USAID funded ACHIEVE being implemented by SWAZ aims to support the Governments' department of social welfare to strengthen a social protection system that supports vulnerable children, adolescents and their families especially those affected by HIV and AIDS.

The national Association of Social Workers has consistently been a member in good standing of the IFSW.

As Vice President of IFSW Africa Region, I have tirelessly supported my regional President raise the profile of the region, bring on board new members to the Federation, support individual national associations as well as facilitate successful regional conferences. I have demonstrated the character of a leader that leads from the front by spearheading conference planning, conference resource mobilisation as well as network and partnership building at national and regional level. I have also been instrumental in the introduction of the regional webinars that promotes sharing of practice experiences by social work practitioners within the region. I believe that the zeal that we have been able to resuscitate in the African social workers will live beyond our legacy and that the profession in Africa will continue growing to higher heights.

Once elected as Global President, I am prepared to put my time, experience, expertise and passion to the service of the Federation and would love to invest most of my energies in strengthening national associations a strategy that further guarantee further strengthening of IFSW. I commit to contributing to the vision of building and fostering partnerships as well as ensuring that the voice of the profession is heard globally especially in so far as our role as human rights defenders is concerned. I commit to contributing to the furtherance of the vision of the federation in co-building a New Eco-Social World beyond COVID-19. I commit to be President of the entire Federation and not just my region seeing equitable growth across all the regions in terms of new members to the Federation as well as individual national associations that have had their capacities to function as organisations strengthened.
