

Anne C. Deepak, Ph.D., MSSW is an Associate Professor and Interim Director of the DSW in Human Rights Leadership at Monmouth University School of Social Work. Dr. Deepak's scholarly work has been focused on developing and applying a postcolonial feminist social work perspective to issues such as food security, human trafficking, humanitarian initiatives for women's economic empowerment, social work practice with refugees and immigrants, and sustainability and population growth. Her other teaching and research areas are global community practice, climate justice, eco-social work, anti-racism, and the Social and Solidarity Economy. As a United Nations representative for the International Federation of Social Workers UN-NY since 2019, she focuses on social development, gender, financing for development and promotes the People's Charter Co-building an Eco-social World. She served on the 2020-2021 Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) Task Force to Advance Anti-racism in Social Work Education, and from 2013-2019 on the CSWE Council on the Role and Status of Women. She has presented to the national and state conferences of the National Association of Social Workers on Islamophobia and the topic of Race, Responsibility and Reconciliation.