

Evelyn Tomaszewski is Divisional Director of Graduate Program and Associate Professor in the Department of Social Work at George Mason University, College of Public Health, having previously served as Senior Policy Advisor and Project Director/ HIV Mental Health Project with the National Association of Social Workers (USA), and as a member of the National Academies' Forum on Global Violence Prevention.

As a public health social worker, her expertise and research interests include HIV/AIDS syndemics, mental health and other NCDs, ethics and social work practice, violence prevention, human rights advocacy with at-risk and marginalized communities, increasing skills and capacity of health and social services workforce (providers, services, leadership and governance), ethics and social work practice, and building pathways to social work education. She has published peer-reviewed articles, position papers, and blogs on a range of policy practice issues.

Evelyn currently serves as an IFSW Regional Representative to the United Nations – North America, and has a leadership role in several US domestic and global organizations including the Board of Directors of the Professional Association of Social Workers in HIV (PASWHA), Suffragist Education Institute (SEI), and as Secretary, Board of Directors and Co-Chair of the Global Mental Health Committee of the Global Alliance for Behavioral Health and Social Justice. She earned her Master of Social Work from West Virginia University and a Graduate Certificate (Public Health/ Global and Community Health) from George Mason University.