

Amran is an accredited Registered Social Worker with more than 25 years of dedicated practice in Singapore's social service sector.

He holds a Master of Social Sciences in Social Work and a Bachelor of Arts in Social Work and Philosophy from the National University of Singapore.

Amran's extensive clinical expertise spans youth engagement, minor marriage support, and family violence management. Currently leading a Family Service Centre as Executive Director, he oversees strategic programme delivery and casework for vulnerable families while contributing to professional development across the region.